Felons' Escape Blocked As Boy Falls Into Hole

PITTSBURGH. — George Gregor, five, foiled escape by convicts in Western penitentiary who dug a 32-foot-long tunnel from the prison laundry to 2 feet from the outside surface—and freedom.

Warden Stanley P. Ashe said the boy stumbled on crumbling ground and slipped into a hole inside the walls. He shouted to a guard at the top of the wall.

Investigation showed unidentified prisoners used makeshift picks and shovels to dig the tunnel 3 feet in diameter.

Ashe said the prisoners had a "good chance to escape" until the discovery.

Lifts Restrictions on Making Vacuum Cleaners

WASHINGTON. — The War Production board lifted restrictions on the manufacture of vacuum cleaners. The WPB emphasized, however, that scarcity of material will keep production from reaching the 1940 rate of 1,903,000 "for some time." Manufacturers assured the WPB they would produce cleaners in "approximately their prewar price range."

Virtually All Yankee Prisoners Are Released

PARIS, FRANCE. — The provost marshal's office of the European theater announced that virtually all American prisoners of war, including those in Russian occupied areas, have been recovered and that more than two-thirds have departed for the United States.

The announcement said 89,778 recovered American prisoners were either on the way home or awaiting transportation.

Soldier Is Alive; Wife Now Sorry She Wed Again

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Another wife who was remarried after she believed her soldier-husband dead is sorry now and hopes to return to him.

The latest case is that of Mrs. Thelma Harmon Nelms, who has filed suit for annulment of her present marriage. Mrs. Nelms said she had received no word from her first husband, S/Sgt. David E. Hammond of Sharpsburg, Md., after May, 1943, and had assumed that he had been killed. His sister had been notified that he was missing in Europe.

Mrs. Nelms' present husband is William R. Nelms of Pennington Gap, Va. They were married last August.

"I don't know why I did it," she said, "except that I felt Dave had died, and—to tell the truth—I was so awful lonesome."

Mrs. Nelms learned three months ago that her first husband had been liberated from Stalag 3D by the Red Army.

Plans For Reinvestment

The Japanese surrender has brought an end to a number of wartime restrictions on the civilian economy. But it still leaves problems of keeping prices stable, controlling scarce consumer goods and other basic matters involved in reconversion from war to peace according to reports from the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion. WPB, OPA and other government agencies responsible for an orderly transition to a peace economy. The report of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion submitt d by John W. Snyder, director, and entitled "From War to Peace: A Challenge," stresses that the goal of our peacetime economy is a vastly expanded production which will make possible the attainment of the four major economic ob ectives which face us in the months ahead. They are:

Jobs for all those willing and able to work; a steadily rising standard of living; stabilization of our economy to avoid disastrous inflation or deflation; and increased opportunities for farmers and businessmen.

U. D. C. Has Anniversary Meeting

The Appomattox Chapter of U. D. C. was organized in August, 1895, and celebrated its fiftieth anniversary August 16, in the home of Mrs. J. E. Dinwiddie, at Sweet Briar. Thirty members and guests were present. The business session over, Mrs. Wm. Abbitt Coleman, Division President, gave the complete history of the Virginia Division's work during the half century. Mrs. Wm. C. Flournoy, Custodian of Lee Mausoleum, Lexington, gave a detailed description of the Recumbent Figure of General Lee, outstanding facts of his career, and the Lee memorial totes in the museum. Both speakers sustained their reputations as learned historians, presenting their subjects in a pleasing and satisfactory manner.

The president of the Appomattox Chapter, U. D. C., introduced former officers present, who have kept the Chapter on the active list.

Conservation on the Farm

(One of a Series)

In cooperation with the Robert E. Lee Soil Conservation District, Mr. C. E. Moore is thinking of building about a two acre farm pond this winter. He expects to stock it with fish. Mr. Moore has a one acre pond with fish of considerable size.

Mr. C. S. Wilbur, of Red House has built a fine barn this summer that will afford him ample storage space and protection of his crops. This type of barn will enable Mr. Wilbur to market his crops at his convenience.

Mr. Berkley Drinkard has purchased the Thomas farm across the road from his farm and expects to combine his farming activities on the two.

Mr. W. T. Nash has good crop of red clover and corn on recently clearer land. Since purchasing his farm, Mr. Nash has cleared and improved all the land he cultivates.

Mr. Thomas O'Cull also has clearned considerable woodland. He expects to purchase a herd of goats to keep bushes down on more land that he expects to clear.

Mr. E. W. Marshall is planning to start contour strip-cropping. The heavy summer rains have caused Mr. Marshall considerable trouble and loss of soil and crops.

Robert Edward Gills, Artist

The writer had the privilege of studying recently the later works of the above-named artist, and is proud Appomattox is the birthplace of such a well-known artist, who was recognized by his teachers as exceptionally talented in a medium which he perfected.

His exhibitions in the leading galleries of the large cities north, south and middle west, elicited high praise of the best art critics, and the Government owns many of his pictures as examples of American art.

This cultured, intellectual citizen's health was always frail; but he overcame his handicap, and his contemporaries acknowledged his ability in the creative field of his profession. Death claimed him for a higher and broader life last October. Mary Louise Gills, James and Theodore Gills, survive.

MRS. WILLIE ELIZA OWEN

Mrs. Willie Eliza Owen died at her home at Oakville Wednesday morning at eight o'clock.

She was born in Buckingham County May 4, 1865, daughter of the late William H. and Eliza Jane Moseley Coleman, and the last of a family of seven children. (Her brother, Charles, died July 27, this year, at the age of 101 years.)

Her late husband, Mr. T. E. Owen was a resident of Appomattox County for 70 years.

She was a member of Red Oak Baptist Church, where funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at four o'clock.

We extend deepest sympathy to the bereaved loved ones.

Eye-Testing Unit Offered To All Schools

Professor L. Crawley announced this week that full use would be made this session at the Appomattox High School of the new eye-testing machine recently furnished by the Appomattox Lions Club. He also suggests that other schools in the county might desire to make use of this eye machine, in which event they will be given every opportunity to do so. The testing machine was purchased by the Lions Club at a cost of $100, as a part of its program for community service. Professor Crawley wishes all schools in the county to use it.

FROZEN FOOD LOCKERS

Richmond, Va. Aug. 22.- More than a million dollars already has been spent in the construction of 25 or more frozen food locker plants in Virginia, and many more are contemplated, says The Commonwealth, publication of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce. The plants contain an average of 500 lockers, indicating that more than 12,000 Virginians already have frozen food supplies in reserve.

BASEBALL GAME HERE

Baseball games for this Saturday: Lee Theatre against H sting Service, Lee Theatre ball park at 3:30 P. M. This is the last home game of the season for the Lee team. The season will close Sunday August 26, with a game against Coates in Lynchburg.

Lee Theatre won both games last week-end, defeating Cullen Saturday, 5 to 0, and Nellyford Sunday, 7 to 1.

Because the starving liberated millions in Europe still need food, the government is asking the American people to contribute canned food to the National Food Bank which will be used for foreign relief. A local Food Bank is being planned for Appomattox County, according to Mrs. B. G. Anderson, home demonstration agent. A special meeting of professional workers, county agricultural board members and interested citizens was held last Thursday night, and plans were made for raising the county quota.

You may help by contributing some of your surplus fresh food, time, and service. If you wish to help, contact Mrs. Anderson, your local home agent; Mr. R. B. Hudgins, county agent; or Mr. W. C. Dudley, volational agriculture instructor. The goal for Appomattox County, as well as the national goal is 10 per cent over and above our local canned food needs. Appomattox County accepted a goal of 10,000 cans to be processed and sent for foreign war relief.

Can your food at home, or at the canning center. Use a pressure cooker for non-acid foods. Use a boiling water bath for fruits and tomatoes. Pack all your food in No. 2, or No. 3 tin cans. The food must be in tin cans for overseas shipment. Mark each can plainly on top with the name of what's in it. Do not abbreviate.

If you want to contribute food, but are unable to can in tin cans, and have to use glass instead, do not feel that you are not participating. All food in glass jars will be accepted by the Food Bank, but will be used locally for some worthy purpose, such as the school lunch programs. So, don't let having to can in glass keep you from contributing to the Food Bank in Appomattox County.

The foods needed most for overseas shipment are. Vegetables . . . beets, carrots, corn, lima beans, peas, sauerkraut, snap beans, tomatoes, sweet potatoes, and soup mixture. Fruits: apples, rhubarb, berries (including wild), cherries, peaches, pears and plums. Fruit and vegetable juices: apple, grape and tomato.

The Sunday Schools of the county are cooperating by raising funds to purchase tin cans.

The food from the National Food Bank will be distributed on the basis of need, and without discrimination, through United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, which is working in various liberated areas in Europe.

Before the National Food Bank took actual form, a coast-to-coast survey was made by the American Institute of Public Opinion. According to this survey, 85 per cent of the American people said they would be willing to put up more food, in order to give food to the needy people in Europe. Of the people polled, 70 per cent said that if it was necessary they would eat about one-fifth less than they are now eating so that more food may be sent to Eurpe.

President Truman says: "In this fourth year of war the need for every ounce of food which the American people can produce and preserve is greater than ever before. Beyond our tremendous military requirements lies the task of working with countries. There can be no peace in a hungry world."

Canneries Open

The Appomattox and Pamplin Community Canneries will be open on Saturdays, August 25th and September 1st, for the purpose of canning for war relief. All families in the county having any vegetables or fruit to spare, please send or bring to canneries by 8:30 A. M. on each of these Saturdays. Helpers will also be needed to process the food.

Appomattox County has exceeded every war goal thus far. Please help keep the good record.
